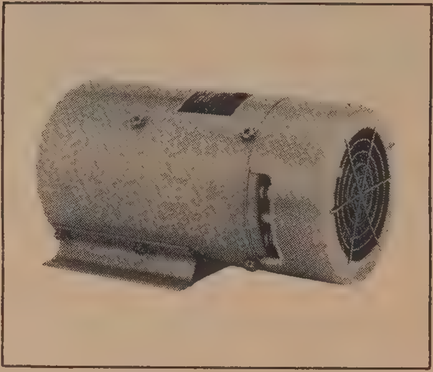
28G5P SERIES POWER SUPPLIES



up to 200 AMPS. D.C. in compact weight-saving packages

The Tung-Sol 28G5P series consists of four standard units that supply 25, 50, 100 or 200 amps. at 28 volts D.C. These are production power supplies available on an off-the-shelf basis. These transformer-rectifiers are designed for continuous operation under the most adverse environmental conditions. Their light weight and small package size allows remote installation of the transformer-rectifiers in communications shelters, field equipment, GSE, and maintenance shops. They are ideal for equipment that is to be transported by air.

An internal blower together with a modified pressure cooling system insure uniform heat dissipation in any mounting attitude.

Why does the best-selling digital printer sell for $335?

Because Victor sells so many of them.

The Victor Imperial digital printer does superbly what any top-quality serial entry printer does. For less money. Because we sell so many.

It prints 8 column figures from remote sources on either 24 or 48 volt solenoids. Addition and subtraction for just $50 more. Ten column capacity? Add $20. Victor's exclusive printing press action reduces wear (and extra parts), and assures legibility and long, long life, under the roughest use.

OEM and quantity discounts available, with factory-trained service representatives covering every county in the U.S.

Does craftsmanship combined with volume manufacturing economies sell digital printers?

The most. VICTOR

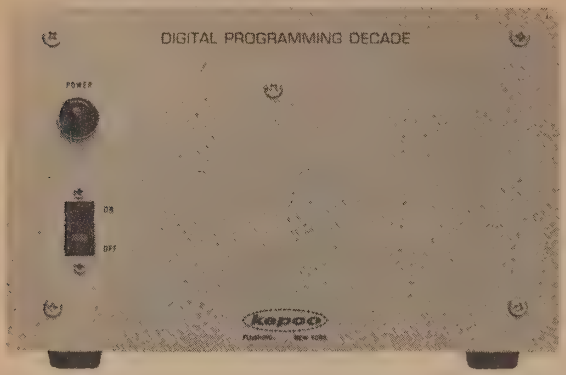
KEPCO DIGITAL PROGRAMMING SYSTEM

DIGITAL PROGRAMMING DECADE



MODEL	DESCRIPTION		COMPANION REGISTER	CABLE TO DPR
DPD–1	4 digit	0–1000.0V	DPR–4	Cable A
DPD–2	4 digit	0–100.00V	DPR–4	Cable B
DPD–3	5 digit	0–1000.00V	DPR–5	Cable A
DPD–4	3 digit	0–1000V	DPR–3	Cable A
DPD–5	3 digit	0–100.0V	DPR–3	Cable B
DPD–6	3 digit	0–10.00V	DPR–3	Cable B
DPD–7	3 digit	Current	DPR–3	Cable B

FUNCTION:
To control the output level (voltage or current) of a d-c Power Supply by means of digitally encoded commands.

OUTPUT RANGE: Each DPD will program 10% overrange and when using the voltage control board has three selectable decimal levels. The largest is shown in the chart; e.g., Model DPD–1, a 4 digit overranging instrument will program: 0–10.999 volts, 0–109.99 volts and 0–1099.9 volts. The DPD–7, a three-digit instrument for the control of current has two selectable decimal levels. A current code board, compatible with the current rating of the power supply being controlled, is needed with the DPD–7. Specify the current code board when ordering by appending a suffix number to the model equal to the ampere rating of the supply being controlled. Specify Model DPD–7–22A for an instrument to control a 22 ampere power supply. The current code board in Model DPD–7 causes the programmed current to correspond to the numerical display of the companion DPR–3 Register.

DESCRIPTION: The DPD's use transistor-driven reed relays to actuate resistors in a 1–2–4–8 BCD code. The input is parallel (RTL) logic levels or switch closures; the output a four-wire resistance and control current command capable of programming any Kepco Operationally Programmable Power Supplies. The DPD's may be driven by the suitable companion DPR which provides serial-parallel conversion, data storage and display.

TIMING: Commands to the DPD are sequenced: hold—execute—program, requiring a 10 millisecond sequence time. This sequencing is provided by the DPR when used together.

INPUT: 21 lines, logic "0" is 0 to 0.3V d-c logic "1" is 1 to 3V d-c
input impedance: 3K ohms

POWER REQUIREMENTS:
115V ±10V a-c or 230V ±20V a-c, 50-440 Hz single phase

SIZE: Half-rack: 5¼" H x 8-11/32" W x 13⅜" D
Rack adapter (Model RA-24) is available)

CABLES: Connect DPK–1 to any DPR via a cable "A"

TYPE	10′ length	3′ length	CONNECTS DPR–3–4–5 TO
A	A–10	A–3	DPK–1, DPD–1–3 & 4

MODEL	NUMBER OF DISPLAY REGISTERS
DPR–3	3 + Overrange
DPR–4	4 + Overrange
DPR–5	5 + Overrange

FUNCTION:
The DPR accepts serial BCD or decimal coded programming signals, stores them and provides a parallel output signal to the DPD decade.

DESCRIPTION:
DPR processes incoming serial data into storage/display registers including a segmented numeric readout. The data is presented in parallel, continuous form to a DPD Programmer. The DPR also processes index and decimal point commands from a keyboard or machine input.

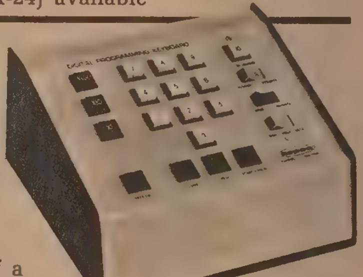
INPUT: Decimal — 10 lines
BCD — 5 lines including data pulse
Range selection (decimal point) — 3 lines;
Function command — 5 lines
Logic levels: "0" is 0 to 0.3V d-c; "1" is 1 to 3V d-c.

OUTPUTS: To DPD: 21 lines parallel data.
To Printer (optional): 20 lines parallel (logic levels).
Print signal: 150 ohms output impedance.
Print complete signal: 1000 ohms input impedance.

POWER REQUIREMENTS:
115V ±10V ac or 230 ±20V ac, 50-440 Hz single phase.

SIZE: Half-rack 5¼" H x 8-11/32" W x 17⅜" D
Rack Adapter (RA-24) available

Model DPK-1 DIGITAL PROGRAMMING KEYBOARD



FUNCTION:
To control the output of a regulated d-c Power Supply with an adding machine keyboard, through a DPR logic and DPD analog converter. DPK-1 is a manual input — in serial form — for the DPR registers.

DESCRIPTION:
The DPK-1 uses SPDT keys to generate decimal code and register control signals, which are shaped and processed for delivery to the DPR storage register. Model DPK-1 will program registers DPR-3, DPR-4 and DPR-5.

COMMANDS:
10 digit decimal signals, 3 ranges, Space, Clear, Start/Print, Index, Hold/Advance, Standby/Operate, Preview, Polarity.

POWER: Derived from DPR
Rack adapter (Model RA 19-1) available.

KEPCO PROGRAMMERS

Kepco is especially aware of the need for programmable mechanisms to provide the maximum benefit from the programming versatility built into modern d-c regulators.

A variety of types are manufactured

- Digital decades provide six-digit voltage selection, three-digit current selection.
- Motorized sweepers generate ultraslow, reversible sweeps with adjustable rates and end limits.
- Function generator: Model FG-100 provides triangular waveforms with symmetric and asymmetric waveshapes.

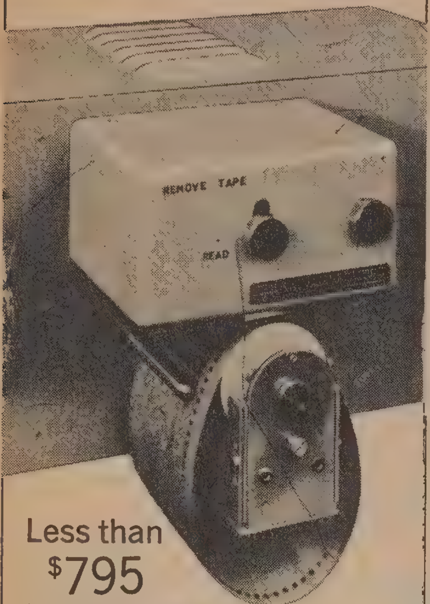
NEW! Direct reading punched tape programmers control 22, 42 or 82 circuits.



Less than $795
(82 channels 115V)

Expressly designed for multiple circuit industrial control applications, this new Tape Reader combines the durability of toggle switches, the flexibility of a patchboard, the repeat accuracy of a cam timer, with the advantages of punched tape programming.

It is a direct-reading tape programmer in which sustained switch closure is provided without memory or lock-up relays. Through the action of make-before-break contact brushes, two or more successive holes in each tape channel still sustain a switch closure.

The tape is driven through the reader either from an external switch closure, stepping from position to position, or at a sustained speed of 25 lines per second. Stepping and sustained advance programs are easily mixed.

Three basic tape drives are available; synchronous motor in many speeds (lines per second), stepping/fast advance (advancing the tape line by line from the receipt of an external switch closure), and a variable speed drive.

Current applications include: sequencing targets on a rifle range, medical analysis equipment, automated plating, loom programming, automatic coil winding, water temperature control for injection molding, durability testing of automatic transmissions, tire manufacturing, food batching, and many others.

Series	Prices	Number of Channels	Drive Type
212	$400.00	12	Stepping
222	$520.00	22	Stepping
242	$620.00	42	Stepping
282	$795.00	82	Stepping

Write for a demonstration, or our 8 page catalog, it will be sent by return mail.

Fluke VLF Receivers

The new model 207-1 Receiver/Comparator for frequency standardization offers world-wide VLF reception with 10 nanovolt sensitivity. Featuring 80 db dynamic range without AGC or operator adjustment, the Model 207-1 allows proper operation over wide range of signal fluctuation. Of solid state and integrated circuit design, this instrument covers 240 channels from 8 KHz to 31.9 KHz plus a channel at 60 KHz. The instrument offers a unique phase tracking servo and both chart and digital readout.

Brief Specifications:

Frequency Coverage:
8.0 to 31.9 KHz in steps of 100 Hz, plus channel at 60.0 KHz.

Sensitivity:
10 nanovolt signal at 50 ohm antenna input terminal enables phase tracking.

Dynamic Range:
An 80 db range of carrier level without the use of AGC. The total signal level operating range is in excess of 140 db, including 60 db front panel attenuator.

Servo Bandwidth:
(Equivalent noise bandwidth)—Equal to selected tracking rate times received frequency. Thus servo bandwidth when receiving 16 KHz is from 0.00048 Hz to 0.016 Hz depending on tracking rate.

Readout:
Front panel chart recording and digital accumulator in steps of 0.1 microsecond.

Size:
Designed for 19″ relay-rack, 7″ high, 18″ deep. Net weight is approximately 35 lbs.

Power Requirements:
The receiver operates from 95-125 or 190-250 VAC, 48-440 Hz, or from a DC source of ±12 VDC standby batteries.

Price:
$2,775.

Options include additional comparison inputs, an internal standard, and internal standard standby batteries.

New Fluke Omega Commutator

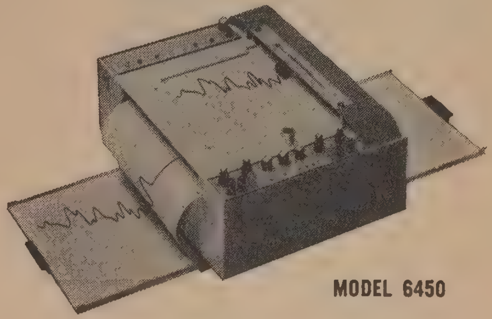
Omnigraphic$_{tm}$ X-Y and X-Y-Y' Recording

Unique in Concept — Reliable in Function

MODEL 6450 — 11" x 17" X-Y Recording Surface $1950

Say "good-bye" to hand loading of charts with this new OMNIGRAPHIC$_{tm}$ X-Y Recorder which has all the advantages of conventional X-Y's, yet is based on a radically new but proven recording principle. Automatic chart advance eliminates the need to manually load and unload each chart. Recording mechanism has two independent servo drives for X and Y and automatic index or reversal of chart on command — local or remote. Slewing speed is 20 in/sec. on Y (pen) axis and is 15 in/sec. on X (paper) axis. Input impedence 1 megohm, all ranges fixed and variable. Accuracy ±0.2% of full scale, repeatability ±0.1%. 18 calibrated DC voltage ranges (continuously variable between ranges). Pen control local or remote. Front panel controls switch from English to Metric scaling.



MODEL 6450

MODEL 6420 — 8½" x 11" X-Y Recording Surface $1950

Same specifications as Model 6450.

MODEL 6452 — 11" x 17" X-Y-Y' (2-pen) Recording Surface $2720

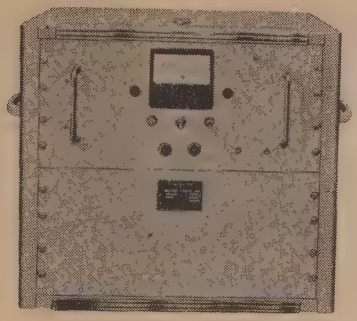
STABILINE®
Automatic Voltage Regulators
IN RATED OUTPUTS TO 275 KVA

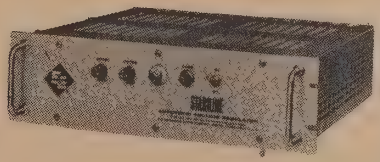


ELECTROMECHANICAL

EMT — Electro Mechanical Transistorized types in ratings from 2.3 to 118 kva. Control circuit completely transistorized. POWERKOTE Coils in power section permit higher output ratings. Rated accuracy ±.75% for all variations of line voltage or load current within stated range of unit.

EMS — Electro Mechanical Transistorized types with ratings from 25 to 275 kva. Several types available with individual line control. Plug-in transistorized control circuit.

EMK — Electro Mechanical high speed, high accuracy types in ratings of 2.5/5.0 kva. Accuracy ±1.0% of nominal output voltage.



SOLID-STATE

IES — Feature completely solid-state circuitry with accuracy within 100 millivolts bandwidth, efficiency up to 95%, fast response, low distortion and wide operating frequency range. Ratings to 15 kva. No vacuum tubes, motors or blowers. All have provision for remote sensing and have removable plug-in solid-state circuit boards.

OTHER TYPES: All-boost marine, militarized, 400 cycle and full range regulator controllers.

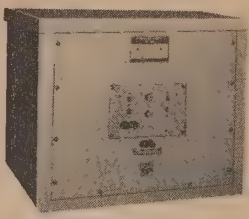
Speedy Relief for Voltage Headaches - -

INDUCTROL® VOLTAGE REGULATORS



1. Inductrol regulators precisely control input to all electronic and electric equipment, providing speedy relief from the voltage fluctuations that can make equipment operate erratically.

2. Inductrol regulators operate on an induction principle, with no brushes to maintain. High reliability is inherent, and automatic voltage regulations is accurate to ±1 percent.

3. Inductrol regulators are available in three basic designs—in a wide range of ratings—and for a variety of voltage- or current controlled applications.

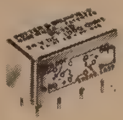
HIGH PERFORMANCE RELAYS



HL RELAY

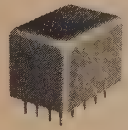
The HL is a micro-miniature, dual coil, polarized magnetic latching relay for high reliability and positive performance in dry circuit to 2 amp applications. Random vibration tested to .4g²/Hz. Hermetic seals are verified with radioactive krypton 85. Meets MIL-R-5757D.

Other high performance P&B relays include the following:

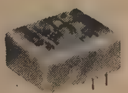
HC RELAY

Same as HL except non-polarized and non-latching.

TL RELAY



Four-pole micro-miniature magnetic latching for severe environs. Available in 1 and 2 coil versions. Rated at 3 amps—4PDT.



FC & FL RELAY

Micro-miniature, latching or non-latching for printed circuits. Rated 3 or 5 amps, DPDT. Shock: 150g. Coil pick up: FC, 160mw; FL, 150mw.

SC & SL RELAY

Micro-miniature permanent magnet or magnetic latching relays. Rated at 2 or 3 amps, DPDT. Coil pick up: SC, 260mw; SL, 230mw.

All of these relays are rated to withstand 150g shock and 30g to 2000 Hz vibration.

For data on other P&B relays see pages 589,591,592,595, 601,611,612

For information on the whole P&B line, write for Industrial Catalog 68 or Distributor Catalog 100. Data sheets describing engineering details of individual relays are also available.

Quality Circuit Components from IBM

IBM offers a growing range of quality components and accessories to meet logic circuit design and packaging problems. These products include: reed relays, miniature dry reed switches, wire contact relays, permissive make relays; as well as complete modular circuit packages and digital logic circuit cards.

They were all originally designed for IBM's exclusive use. And they are manufactured with the same care, measure up to the same exacting standards and are, in fact, drawn from the same inventories as the components used in our own systems.

IBM components are being employed increasingly by electronic equipment manufacturers to solve problems such as electro-mechanical switching and interfacing solid-state and relay circuitry.

Read the following application descriptions. Consider the product features. Compare the performance data. You'll find they tell a story of consistent quality. IBM quality.

IBM Wire Contact Relays

For counting, logic switching, shift registers, flip-flop and timing circuits. In numerical control, communications, test equipment, process control, data processing and supervisory control systems. They operate as fast as 4.5 ms, have coil voltages up to 100 VDC with contact arrangements of 4, 6 and 12 pole Form-C, 4 and 6 pole latch.

IBM Permissive-Make Relays

High-speed operation with low contact bounce characteristics and long life. Recommended where speed and life requirements exceed the ratings of IBM wire contact relays. They perform up to 400 million operations, operate as low as 2.0-2.5 ms with contact arrangements of 4 and 6 pole, Form-C.

IBM Reed Relays

Economical interface between electronic and electromechanical circuit elements. Wide range of logic functions . . . wherever high-speed operation, low actuate power and long trouble-free life are prime requisites. Built around IBM's highly reliable rhodium-gold reed switch. Pluggable mountings. Magnetically shielded. Available in 1-2-4 and 6-pole Form-A; 2-, 4- and 6-pole Form-B configurations; plus various combinations with either pick or both pick and hold coils.

IBM SMS Circuit Packaging System

Connects printed circuit cards, receptacles, relays, and associated hardware on rectangular modular frames. Field-proven and widely used in IBM data processing systems. Provides a wide range of circuit packaging options.

You'll find a strong family resemblance in these new REEDAC*RELAYS. They have that precision and quality that mark the lineage unmistakably as Grigsby-Barton.

These new REEDAC*RELAYS combine the advantages of reed relay switching with solid state dependability. Rated at 15 amps 220V RMS to 30 amps 220V RMS with external heat sinking. Switches on at 4V max. and off at current zero. Virtually zero RFI.

Completely sealed case measures 2.625 x 1.625. Terminals are quick disconnect, screw type or solder type (alternate: octal plug mounting). Typical switching applications: (a) Tungsten lamp loads; (b) highly inductive or capacitive loads; (c) any heavy AC loads triggered by transistor logic; (d) control motors and solenoids with or without transistor logic. (e) Interface with DTL logic.

Other REEDAC*RELAYS are available for specialized applications. Write for information on the complete line of Grigsby-Barton reed relays, logic cards and switching systems.

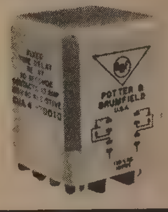
P&B
SOLID STATE
TIME DELAY
RELAYS



CU RELAY

as low as

$12.50

Three separate series of solid state time delay controls are available, the CD series, the CH series, and the CU series. The differences between the three types consist in their degree of accuracy, the variety available in each series, and their cost.

CD SERIES Remarkably dependable, accurate and flexible, the CD series offers an unusually wide selection of operational configurations, all with accurate time delay values, fast reset time and excellent repeatability. It is available in two types: Knob-adjustable in two versions, one with the relay in the same enclosure as the solid state unit, the other with an auxiliary relay. A second type is adjustable with an external resistor. The CD series is available for time delay on operate or on release.

CH SERIES The CH series is intended for a wide range of industrial applications where economy is of greater interest than highly critical performance. It is available in two types: Knob-adjustable with the relay in the same enclosure as the solid state unit. The second type has a fixed time delay period that is set at the factory and cannot be modified; its case has no knob. The CH series is available for time delay on operate and on release.

CU SERIES An outstanding value in a solid state time delay relay at low cost. Available in two types: Fixed time delay and adjustable with an external resistor. The CU series is offered with delay on operate only.

COMPARISON OF SPECIFICATIONS OF CD WITH CH AND CU SERIES

TYPE	DIAL SETTING	ACCURACY OR TOLERANCE	RESET TIME	REPEAT-ABILITY
CD	Time, calibrated ±5% of full scale	±5% of nominal	60 Milli-seconds	±1%
CH	Reference scale	±10% of nominal	100 Milli-seconds	±2%
CU	Not applicable	Tolerance: Fixed ±5% of nominal; resist. adj. ±10% of nom.	150 Milli-seconds	±3%

For information on the whole P&B line, write for Solid State Products Catalog or Distributor Catalog 100. Data sheets describing engineering details of individual relays are also available.

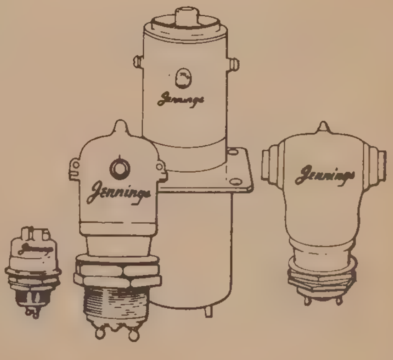
VACUUM
RELAYS

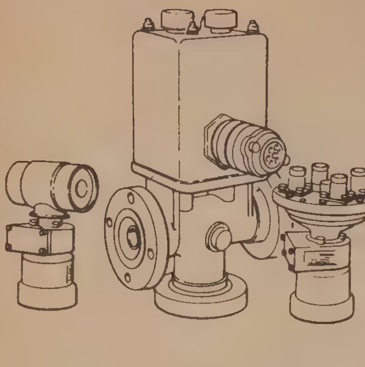


The ability to withstand high voltages and efficiently carry current distinguishes the ITT Jennings line of vacuum relays. Used primarily in critical high voltage and high current equipment such as controls, radar, power supplies and communications, they are ideal for use in applications from high power equipment to dry circuits at frequencies from DC to 600 mc. They are unexcelled at all power levels where reliability is required.

For application and specification data, write for catalog No. 102. ITT Jennings, a division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, 970 McLaughlin Avenue, San Jose, California 95108. Phone (408) 292-4025, TWX 910-338-0159.

JENNINGS ITT

VACUUM COAXIAL RELAYS



The use of vacuum as a dielectric and contact environment makes the ITT Jennings line of vacuum coaxial relays more reliable than conventional types, with permanently low and stable insertion loss, and VSWR. Low noise level and low loss operation are inherent advantages. All operate at speeds of 25 to 50 milliseconds and some as fast as 3 to 5 milliseconds.

For complete application data and specifications, write for catalog No. 103. ITT Jennings, a division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation. 970 McLaughlin Avenue, San Jose, California 95108. Phone (408) 292-4025. TWX 910-338-0159.

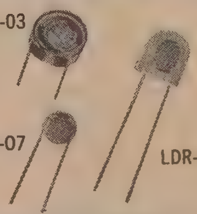
LIGHT DEPENDENT

LDRs, made from cadmium sulfide, are semiconductors whose conductivity increases when irradiated by wave lengths within a certain range of the spectrum. Made in specific versions with relevant electrical characteristics for control, counting, measuring, alarm and switching applications.

Type	Description	Diameter (")	Thickness (")
LDR-03	Makrolon case and epoxy resin	0.55 ± 0.196	0.35 ± 0.06
LDR-05	Plastic case and epoxy resin	0.43 ± 0.006	0.14 ± 0.004
LDR-07	Lacquered protective coating	0.34 ± 0.16	0.071 ± 0.002

Applications: Auto Parking & Headlight Dimmers,
TV Brightness Control, Exposure Meters,
Flame Control in Oil Burners, Magnetic Tape Controls, etc.



VOLTAGE DEPENDENT

Most important property is the non-linearity between their resistance and the applied voltage. Voltage dependency is due to contact resistance between the silicon carbide crystals. Crystal contacts form a network of series and parallel resistors which determine the electrical characteristics.

Available Types

Disc types available: 0.8W to 3W
Rod types available: 0.7W

Applications

VDRs can be used in spark suppression and contact-protection applications, as well as in series with a resistor for voltage stabilization. Although the stabilizing circuit with a VDR cannot compete with more elaborate circuits, it has vital advantages of simplicity and small space adaptability.

POSITIVE TEMPERATURE COEFFICIENT THERMISTORS

PTC Thermistors increase in resistance as the temperature increases. PTCs are disc shaped with connecting leads and are lacquer coated for protection against atmospheric influences.

Available Types

Standard Discs 1W 40 to 50V series
Standard Discs 0.5W 25V series

Applications

Resistance changes of 10%/°C or better permit the use of PTCs wherever any of the following factors are decisive: ambient temperature; dissipated power; inertia of PTC and positive temperature coefficient.

Discs

NEGATIVE TEMPERATURE COEFFICIENT THERMISTORS

NTC thermistors are resistors which exhibit a high negative temperature coefficient of resistivity. They are made of semiconducting oxidic materials. The resistance of the oxides decreases rapidly when the temperature rises.

Available Types

Rod Type
Disc Type
Miniature Bead Type
Special Types for Automobiles
Special Types for Radio and TV

Applications

Resistance changes of 3% to 6% per °C permit the use of NTCs in applications such as: ambient temperature measurement and control; resistance determined by dissipation and time delays.

E-I GLASS-TO-METAL SEALS —

Specialized manufacture, with continual R & D pinpointed to absolute seal perfection

— PROVED IN CRITICAL AERO-SPACE PROJECTS!

Years of E-I specialized production, with research and development devoted exclusively to the ultimate in hermetic sealing, have resulted in electrical and mechanical characteristics compatible with today's highly sophisticated applications. Engineers and designers requiring high reliability in vacuum-tight sealing, should check these advantages:

- High dielectric strength, severe shock and vibration resistance
- Cushioned glass construction, maximum rigidity and durability
- Withstand wide fluctuations in temperature and humidity
- Miniaturization, design standardization

E-I sealed terminations include hundreds of stock items. Where custom seals or unusual lead configurations are required, E-I sales engineers will make recommendations from your blueprints, sketches or data.

Write for E-I Catalog — Complete data on standard types, custom seal components and sealing to your specifications. Address requests on company letterhead.

ENGINEERING FACTS AND FIGURES

Construction—Chassis-Trak Slides are made of hard, cold-rolled steel for maximum strength and wearing qualities and are cadmium-plated for extra corrosion resistance. Smooth operation is achieved by means of Poxylube 75 dry film lubricant which becomes increasingly slick with use. This permanent formulation is dust-repellent and withstands pressure loading of more than 50,000 psi at 25 ft./min. Finish has passed JAN 100-hour salt spray test and is approved for military use.

Installation—"Pencil thin" Chassis-Trak design permits installation of standard 17" chassis in standard 19" panel racks without modification. Standard slides bolt to front rail and rear of cabinet. On most models, a prefabricated gusset assembly can be furnished for use where load does not exceed 100 lbs. Gusset automatically aligns slides and permits mounting at front rail only. Templates, rear mounting brackets and all hardware furnished together with complete assembly instructions.

Operation—Chassis-Trak Slides are available in non-tilt, tilt, and tilt-detent models. Slides with "B" in the model designation tilt upward only; "D" models tilt and lock in seven different service postions. Choice of solid bearing or roller bearing operation. Roller bearings are recommended for equipment requiring frequent service. Chassis of any length can be fully extended without disconnecting rear cables. Pushbutton spring mechanism releases chassis for convenient slip-out, slip-in servicing.

What's your major problem in buying solders and fluxes?

Product range? No problem with Dutch Boy. Select from pig solder, slab, bar, sheet, ribbon, solid wire, drop, pulverized or paste. Select from corrosive, intermediate, non-corrosive or activated rosin fluxes—in liquid or paste form . . . or in cored wire solders.

Reliability? You can rely on Dutch Boy solders for formula integrity. They're properly refined and made under the most rigid quality control standards to meet your most exacting requirements. You can rely on Dutch Boy fluxes for dependability of acid number, resistivity of water, fluxing action, spread factor, dryness, effect on electroplating copper or electrically polarized wire.

Service? You can get coast-to-coast service from 14 strategically located plants and 28 service offices.

Information? Write for your copy of "Solders and Fluxes for the Electronics Industry." National Lead Company, Room 4304 , 111 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10006.

The Material of Unlimited Uses...

SOLDERING "UNSOLDERABLES"

...is but one of the thousands of uses for advanced low-melting-temperature alloys such as Cerroseal® 35. Cerroseal 35 melts between 238 and 260° F., and can be used with ordinary soldering techniques. When soldered with this versatile alloy, "toughies" such as glass-to-metal, ceramic-to-metal and metal-to-metal seals stay tight even in a deep vacuum. Other Cerro® Alloys, including specials made to your individual specs, are perfect for joining ultra-delicate parts like integrated circuits which cannot be heat-sinked during soldering. Low-temperature soldering as cool as 117° F. can also be accomplished with certain Cerro Alloys.

For detailed information contact Cerro Alloy Dept., Cerro Copper & Brass Company, Stamford, Conn. 06907...R. S. Darnell (203) 327-0550.

Standards Voltage DC

Fluke Precision Voltage/ Current Calibrators

Newest instrument in the line of Fluke precision calibrators is the multi-function Model 335A DC Voltage Calibrator, Differential Voltmeter and Null Detector. The new unit measures and supplies DC voltages from 0 to 1100 volts with an output of 0 to 50 ma. As a source and as a differential voltmeter, absolute accuracy is within 0.002% of setting. Resolution for any voltage range is 0.1 ppm. The null detector which can be used the same time the instrument is being used as a voltage source, offers an accuracy of 3% of end scale on all ranges.

The Model 315A offers high speed remote programming of voltage, current limit, and polarity. Voltage changes are programmed by a 1-2-4-8 BCD code in increments as small as 100 microvolts. Settling time is 1 ms/volt at 500 ma and 5 ms/volt at 1 amp.

New Fluke Model 760A Meter Calibrator

The new Model 760A Meter Calibrator calibrates AC/DC, volt or ammeters directly in terms of percent error. This calibration standards instrument is guaranteed to stay within specifications for one full year over a wide range of environmental conditions. Compared to existing equipment on the market, the instrument is genuinely portable.

A minimum number of controls and indicators simplify and speed operation of the instrument. You can dial up any parameter without range changing or switching. Interlocks and other safety features prevent damage to the instrument under test and harm to the user. A stable, low frequency oscillator is used to provide either 60 Hz or 400 Hz.

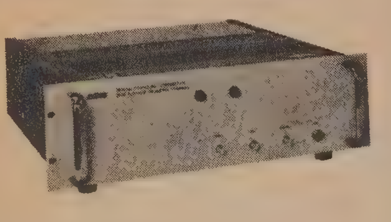
GENERAL TECHNOLOGY
RUBIDIUM FREQUENCY
STANDARDS



Rubidium Frequency Standard is accurate, stable, compact, and rugged. For use in timing, standards laboratories, navigation systems, missile and satellite tracking and communication systems. Synthesizer translates atomic resonance frequency to outputs at standard frequencies. Time scale selector permits switch selection of output time scale to accommodate future changes in UT2 and to select A1 or UT2. Initial frequency setting of ±5 × 10^{-11} relative to customer prescribed frequency or time scale (±2 × 10^{-11} if set at the National Bureau of Standards). Long-term stability is 5 × 10^{-11} (one year).

The Model 5C is designed specifically for fast frequency stabilization, and reaches an aging rate of 5×10^{-10}, within 12 hours after turn on. The output frequency changes less than 1×10^{-11} per 1°C. over a temperature range from -10 to $+60$°C. Meets requirements of MIL-E-16400E. Typical ultimate aging rate per 24 hrs is 1×10^{-10}.

MODEL 2.5C The ultimate in crystal stability, the Model 2.5C provides a guaranteed aging rate per 24 hours of 5×10^{-11}, with a typical ultimate aging rate of 1×10^{-11} per 24 hours.

SULZER CRYSTAL CLOCKS

Model A5 generates precise (10^{-10}) time references under extreme environmental conditions. Choice of internal oscillator determines characteristics: D5 has excellent frequency stability over wide temperature range, D2.5 provides even higher frequency stability. Pulse outputs down to 1 per second, sine wave outputs at 5, 1.0 and 0.1 MHz and 10 kHz. Mechanical register indicates elapsed time in hrs., mins., seconds. Typical time lost or gained during first 24 hours after frequency adjustment, after 6 months operation, is 2 microseconds.

GENERAL TECHNOLOGY PORTABLE ATOMIC CLOCKS

Model 307B, industry's first truly portable Atomic Clock transports time data between remote stations which must operate in microsecond synchronism. Operates on either internal batteries (8 or 14 hours) or 115 VAC. Incorporates proven reliability of Model 304-B, has environmentally rugged resonator unit developed for ballistic missile application. Optional Time Scale Selector permits any frequency offset in range 900×10^{-10}. Long Term Stability 5×10^{-11} (standard deviation) per year. Initial frequency setting $\pm2\times10^{-11}$ if set at the National Bureau of Standards. 7″ × 7½″ × 17⅝″, 38 pounds with batteries.

ELECTRONIC
from FERROTEC

Ferrotec is presently manufacturing a line of Electronic Shutters. The Electronic Shutter is a Latched Ferrite Circulator with extremely fast switching time, which does not require holding power. The circulator is a three port ferrite device in which the magnet has been replaced with a solenoid. The basic Electronic Shutter is capable of 20 db isolation in all radar and communications bands (coaxial and waveguide) over the most severe environments.

The unit pictured above was designed for use in WR-28 waveguide (600 mc bandwidth). The unit contains an integral driver circuit capable of obtaining switching speeds of 100 nanoseconds maximum. Its more salient features include: 1) The ability to remain in a switched state without holding power or keep alive energy and: 2) Because it is a ferrite device it does not deteriorate with time when operated within its rated specifications.

Other salient features include:
Isolation ....20.0 db min.
Insertion Loss ......0.5 db max.
VSWR ....1.20 max.
Temp. Range ...−55°C to +71°C
Switching Energy ....
100 micro-joules (approx.)

This is our Molex 1175. A lighted push button switch. Snap mounts. Spade or wire terminals make assembly easy. In quantity, costs about sixty cents.

You could pay more, but that's the point. Men who use switches have told us, "enough is enough". We take that seriously. By creating switches that do the job right, yet aren't over-engineered to the point that costs wind up in left field.

So this switch is available in nine colors, 500 variations, and is built to go on and off —and on and on. For about sixty cents.

If that makes sense to you, and you would like a free sample of our 1175 switch, write or phone (312) 969-4550.

...the Difference Between Excellent and Adequate

CTS CORPORATION ELKHART, INDIANA

Specialists In Precision Mass Production Of Rotary Selector Switches

WHY ENGINEERS SPECIFY CTS SWITCHES

"NO BREAKAGE"
They don't break on production lines or on finished equipment if dropped or jarred . . . CTS glass alkyd wafers are not brittle like phenolic . . . easy to handle.

"NO SHIFTING"
Precision molded construction eliminates mechanical shifting of stator circuitry and terminals.

"MORE COMPACT"
No spacers needed when stacking wafers . . . Maximum switching capability with minimum depth . . . Smaller diameter — only 1⅛" (Series 212 wafers)

"VERSATILITY OF CIRCUITS"
Many circuit variations available due to varied rotor contact configurations. External jumpers eliminated by CTS internal connections between positions.

"AVAILABILITY OF POWER SWITCHES":
Available with 4 types of power switches and/or numerous potentiometers.

"SUPERIOR INSULATION"
Glass alkyd is superior to phenolic insulation.

- Soldering heat can't loosen terminals.
- Meet MIL-S-3786 A&B, Style SRO3 (Series 211 and 212.)
- Balanced contact spring.
- Natural solder barrier provided by glass alkyd insulation.
- Unlimited shaft lengths.

Series JMT Toggle Switches
1-, 2-, 3-, and 4-pole DT

• SUB-MINIATURE TYPE SERIES JMT

Manufactured by J-B-T in Connecticut, with a distinctive green body. Single-pole types are ¼" thin, weigh 0.19 oz.; double-pole are ½" square, 0.23 oz., 3-pole and 4-pole models are correspondingly small. Nominal rating is 5 amp resistive load at 125 VAC and 24 VDC. The ¼" mounting bushing will not turn or work loose in surface plate; terminals are firmly staked and will withstand repeated soldering. Additional models are shown below.

Series MPC for direct mounting in printed circuit

Series PC1 for right angle mounting

Series FH with non-turn flat handle

Ask for Bulletin JMT-448, Catalog 568, and appropriate SK specification drawings.

• HEAVY DUTY MIL, JAN & AN TYPES

Generous proportions of selected silver alloys add overload protection and keep contact resistance under .005 ohms in MIL-S-3950C types: single-pole MS35058, double-pole MS35059 and 4-pole MS25068; also MIL-S-6745 Series AN3021 and AN3027. Many JAN-S-23, ST-40, -42, -50, and -52 models are similarly made. 20 amp at 125 VAC, 10 amp 250 VAC.

• MEDIUM DUTY MIL & JAN TYPES

Medium-duty describes the current carrying capacity — nominal rating 6 Amp. at 125 VAC, 3 Amp. at 250 VAC — rather than the life characteristic of these MIL-S-3950C types: Single-pole MS25098 and double-pole MS25100; also JAN-S-23 types ST12 through ST27. All use self-wiping heavily-silver-plated double-grip contacts for exceptional reliability.

Higher Accuracy. 5′ Standard • Outstanding Repeatability of Calibration Pattern • Stability of Calibration over Temperature • 150°C Standard Operating Temperature • Lower Null Voltage

Keeping pace with the developing aerospace field, Clifton has developed SILVERLINE, a new, superior line of standard synchros.

These units, a natural evolution from our present line of quality synchros, embody certain new manufacturing techniques and space age materials. The result is a standard synchro which outperforms present synchros in the above five distinct ways.

SYNCHROS

Clifton synchros offer high accuracy (7′ max. error is typical), low nulls, low phase shifts, corrosion resistant construction, stainless steel or aluminum housings. Double ended shafts, BuWeps types and ultra high temperature resistant types (450°F) are available. Clifton manufactures an extremely wide variety of transmitters, receivers, control transformers, differentials, resolvers, precision computing resolvers, linear transformers, as well as a complete line of motors and motor rate tachometers.

GYRO PICKOFF SYNCHROS AND RESOLVERS

Gyro pick-offs generally require individual mounting configurations and electrical parameters. Clifton can custom design them for your particular needs. Beryllium, aluminum or stainless steel housings. A wide selection of bores, stack heights, widths and diameters are available from existing laminations. Our gyro pick-offs are used extensively in the Apollo program.
Custom designed torque motors also available.

Fluke Frequency Synthesizers

Model 644

The new family of Fluke frequency synthesizers offers a new standard of performance in the smallest package ever. Just seven inches of panel space offer a range of DC to 40 MHz with a non-harmonic spurious content at least 90 db below the fundamental.

Model 644 covers DC to 40 MHz. Model 633 covers DC to 11 MHz. Model 622 covers DC to 2 MHz. All three units feature, in addition to exceptionally low spurious content, high signal to noise ratio, modern packaging, in-line, in-plane frequency readout, and fast remote programming. Frequency can be changed in a fraction of a millisecond.

Special Models

Because Fluke synthesizers are designed modularly, special requirements can be met quickly. For instance, Fluke has built units with dual tracking outputs with fixed separation, and separate fixed frequency outputs. Least increments of 0.01Hz are also available. Of special note is the Model 314 which, as a receiver local oscillator, offers spurious cleanliness better than 100 db.

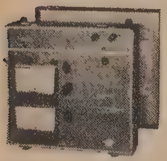
INSULATION TESTING INSTRUMENTS

Portable DC HYPOTS® to 100 KV



Output of the several portable DC HYPOTS is continuously variable from 0 to maximum with the voltage metered directly in the output. Leakage current measurements are on four range meters reading down to as low as 0.05 microamps. Features: 2% metering accuracies, electronic circuit protection, by-pass and metered return terminals, grounded steel cases, silicon rectifiers, plug-in high voltage leads, etc.

Model	Output Voltage	Output Current	Price
5205	0-5 KV	2.0	$ 550
5212	0-10 KV	2.0	675
5220	0-20 KV	2.0	735
5271	0-50 KV	2.5	2250
5321	0-100 KV	5.0	3115

Request Portable DC HYPOT Bulletins

Insulation Resistance Testers

Ranges from 100 to 10 million megohms at test potentials to 10 KV.

The VIBROTEST megohmmeter provides a wide selection of battery and line-powered instruments for accurate insulation resistance measurements of circuits, components, cables, motors, etc. They are direct reading and push button operated requiring no cranking or leveling.

Select from 17 models ranging from pocket-size to portable 10 KV with variable voltage. Some models combine megohm with ohm and AC-DC volt scales in one instrument. Five popular models are:

Model	DC Test Voltage	Max. Megohms	Features	Price
2000	500	100	Pocket-size	$ 95
201	500	200	Includes 2K ohm and six AC-DC volt scales	148
211	1000	2000	200 K ohm range	255
2850	500/50	10 Million	Constant test voltage through 6 decades	295
2955	0-2,500	50,000	Adjustable test voltage	890

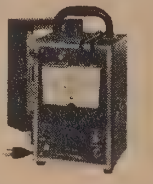
Request VIBROTEST Megohmmeter Bulletins by model number.

Testing Manual Available

This 60 page collection of Bulletins covers specs, prices and applications of insulation resistance testers, AC HYPOT Juniors, portable and mobile DC test sets, corona and materials test equipment, kilovoltmeters, precision ohmmeter, current transformers, phase sequence indicators.

Request Manual 2900 on company letterhead

A-C HYPOT Jrs... to 10 KV, limited current



Portable a-c dielectric strength testers providing outputs continuously variable from 0-1500 V up to 10,000 V a-c. Use of neon breakdown and leakage current indicators in conjunction with collapsing field-type high voltage transformers assures rapid and safe production testing.

The leakage current indicator is adjustable from 0.3 to 3 ma. A 4½" kilovoltmeter provides high accuracy. Short-circuit current cannot exceed 18 ma.

Three popular models are:

Model	Output Voltage	Price
411	0-2,500	$155
404	0-4,000	170
422	0-10,000	245

HYPOT Jr. Automatic "Squawker" Models

Available with output voltages from 0-1500 volts to 0-6000 volts a-c. Similar to the standard HYPOT Jr. models but include an audible signal unit and external control terminals.

DC and Combined AC/DC HYPOT Jrs.

offer same features as described above, plus test potentials to 5 KV.

Request AC & DC HYPOT Jr. Bulletins.

Insulating Materials Testers

A full range of testers for solid and liquid insulating materials to 100 KV and higher is available. Due to the rapid progress of insulating materials and testing techniques, new equipment is added whenever required to meet ASTM, MIL and Federal test specifications.

Model 4501 Materials Testing HYPOT 0-35 KV at 2 KVA

This popular model meets dielectric strength testing requirements of Specification D-149, ASTM Standards on Electrical Insulation Materials. Output continuously variable from 0-35 KV a-c at 2 KVA (intermittent rating). Magnetic breaker trips when specimen breaks down. Output termination in jacks at center of the lucite cabinet top accepts the interchangeable ARI materials testing fixtures. Optional features: interlocked clear lucite test cage and selection of ARI plug-in materials testing fixtures, automatic rate of rise, dual sensitivity circuit breaker, etc.

Request Insulation Materials Tester Bulletin

High Voltage Test Equipment to 500 KV AC and 1,000 KV DC

A full range of instruments for extra high voltage dielectric strength testing. AC or DC potentials at capacities of up to 150 KVA or more. Control and measurement features include: automatic rate of voltage rise, memory circuit to record breakdown voltage, output current metering, separate low voltage control and high voltage test cabinets and many others.

AR has over 30 years experience in the design and manufacture of heavy duty very high voltage test equipment. All instruments are ruggedly constructed and fully tested in our own high voltage laboratory.

Corona Testing Equipment

New instruments detect, display and measure corona caused by voids, surface or other conditions in insulation sample or equipment under test.

Instruments include: specially constructed corona-free HYPOT test set, a pickup network to extract the true corona signal and the corona detection display module. The detector also incorporates a calibrator to make quantitative corona measurements down to 0.1 picocoulombs.

These modules are available as individual units or as a complete integrated instrument. Standard models with test potentials of 10 to 100 KV AC include these two popular models:

Model	Output KV	KVA Capacity	Cabinet Style	Price
4074	10	0.25	Bench	$2250
4309	35	1.0	Console	3950

Request Bulletin 4-1.9.

Mobile HYPOTS . . . to 150 KV DC

Heavy-duty mobile test sets for determining insulation leakage and dielectric strength of cables, bushings, switchgear, transformers, motors and generators.

Outputs continuously variable from 0 to 45 KV and on up to 150 KV, with ratings of 2.5, 5, 10 ma. at full voltage.

Features include: 4½" kilovoltmeter connected directly across the high voltage output; three-range 4½" microammeter electronically protected against overload; zero return interlock; connector for remote safety interlock; fast-acting magnetic circuit breaker in output to protect high voltage circuits and external load; thermal overload breaker to protect input circuits; long-life silicon high voltage rectifiers; metered return and bypass return terminals for measurement of load (leakage) or bypass (guard) currents.

Request Mobile DC HYPOT Bulletin 5-1.12

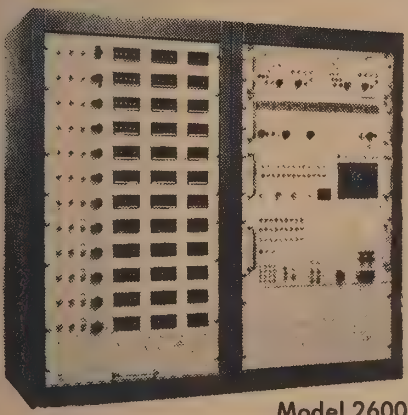
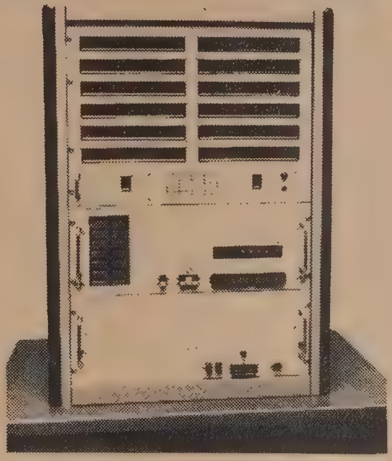
MASTECH, INC.

Semiconductor Test Equipment



Model 2600



Model 2610

MASTECH manufactures semiconductor test systems for use in incoming test, quality control and manufacturing lines.

Our high speed automatic go no-go type systems such as the Model 2600 are designed for use with mechanical loaders and segregators on transistor and diode production lines, including pellet check areas. Model 2600 employs a digital switch programmer, but other type programmers such as punched card readers and core memory devices can be used. All of the contact closures necessary for operation of the handling equipment are provided in the system, including the contacts for automatic bin selection. Type classification and priority selection is accomplished by insertion of pins into a diode pin matrix board.

Similar systems such as the Model 2610 which feature a direct digital readout mode of operation have been designed for incoming test and quality control areas. These systems have the same programming means and high speed go no-go capabilities as the Model 2600 but in addition can be cycled on command to the go no-go balance point. At this point a direct digital display of the transistor or diode characteristic is presented.

All of these systems can be supplied with six, twelve or twenty-four test capability. Tests can be made in any desired combination or sequence and include hFE, breakdown or peak inverse voltage, sustaining voltage, leakage current, saturation or forward voltage drop and small signal beta. Other special sets designed to test PNPN devices, SCR's, and UJT transistors are available.

Technical bulletins along with price and delivery information are available on request.

PRESSURE SENSITIVE TRANSISTORS

¼—2 & 5 PSID

PITRAN™ pressure-sensitive transistor transducers are now available for bi-directional ranges of ¼, 2 and 5 psid. Linear outputs of more than 20% of the supply voltage (1-50 volts) can be obtained WITHOUT AMPLIFICATION.

PITRANS are silicon planar NPN transistors with emitter-base junctions mechanically coupled to a diaphragm located in the top of a TO-46 can. A force or a pressure on the diaphragm produces a large, reversible change in the transistor's characteristics. Because it is an active circuit element, a variety of circuits can be used for linear, binary, FM, and PWM outputs.

Mechanical resonance frequency is 100 kHz minimum. Diaphragm displacement is a few microinches. Linear dynamic range is better than 72 dB. Overload capability 500% of full-scale. Excellent common-mode pressure rejection.

Typical Applications: Dynamic blood pressure measurement, fluidic/electronic interfacing, high-speed weighing, traffic counting, altitude sensing, and high-speed, ultra-reliable pressure switching.

Transformers to Your Specifications

Since 1935, Peerless has designed and manufactured transformers of highest reliability to meet exacting specifications in electronic applications. Transformers engineered and built by Peerless include sizes from 0.1 cubic inch to more than 20 cubic feet; from fractional to 30,000 volts; from less than one cycle to approximately 0.5 megacycles; and in one, two, and three-phase and phase-changing configurations. Open-frame or potted, hermetically sealed or vacuum impregnated, varnished, fosterited, epoxy, silastic impregnated or encapsulated...whatever your transformer needs, Peerless can fill them.

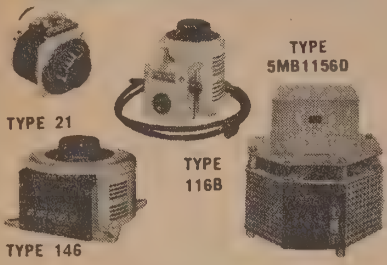
POWERSTAT®

Variable Transformers

now with POWERKOTE COILS



Most specified by industry, POWERSTAT Variable Transformers with new epoxy-coated POWERKOTE Coils give an average of 20% higher current ratings, 10:1 greater overload capability, longer life, greater resistance to fungus, salt spray and other contaminating atmospheres. Also feature excellent regulation, negligible waveform distortion, conservative ratings, high efficiency, precious-metal plated commutators and rugged construction. All manually operated types listed in the chart (except the 10B and 12 series) are also available with motor drives in speeds of 5, 15, 30 or 60 seconds for full range travel. Ratings for ganged assemblies can be easily calculated from single unit ratings given in the chart. Types are available up to 244 kva.

WIDEBAND TRANSFORMERS

The most widely used component for • IMPEDANCE MATCHING • ANTENNA MATCHING • PHASE DETECTION • INPUT, OUTPUT, and INTERSTAGE COUPLING • FREQUENCY MULTIPLICATION • INSTRUMENT PROTECTION against DC-SURGE BURNOUT • VOLTAGE or CURRENT STEP-UP and STEP-DOWN. Low Insertion Loss and VSWR. Power handling: 2-4 watts. Rugged, epoxy encapsulated package. We also make a stock line of WIDEBAND HYBRID JUNCTION/TRANSFORMERS which are very useful for DOUBLY BALANCED MIXERS and for VECTOR ADDITION and SUBTRACTION. They are all DC isolated. Write for Bulletin 368.

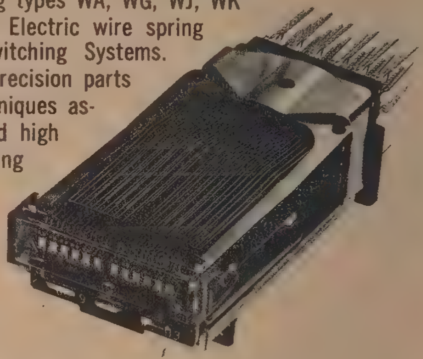
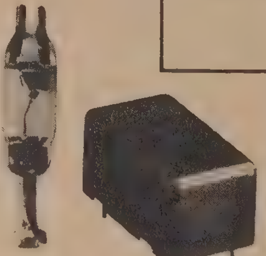
NIPPON ELECTRIC IS A WORLD LEADER IN ELECTRONIC COMPONENTS. KNOWLEDGEABLE ENGINEERS SPECIFY NEC PRODUCTS FOR ESTABLISHED RELIABILITY ("ER"). OUR PRICES ARE COMPETITIVE AND PERFORMANCE OF THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

NEC MINIATURE RELAY—MR11. Characteristics are similar to the W. E. MB Relay. Highly recommended for general industrial application, MR11 Relays are especially suitable for printed circuit configurations. Gold plated twin contacts add greater reliability and durability.

NEC WIRE SPRING RELAY TYPE WJ (24-Make)—shown here—is one of a group including types WA, WG, WJ, WK and WM, similar to Western Electric wire spring relays used in Crossbar Switching Systems. Finest quality wire springs, precision parts and the latest assembly techniques assure long life expectancy and high speed operation. NEC Wire Spring Relays are highly recommended for sophisticated telephone exchange systems, and wherever control relays are used.



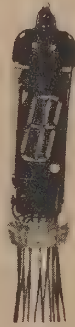
NEC TYPE MC-2, MC-3 and MC-4 MERCURY-WETTED SWITCHES. Type MC-4 is shown here, in its housing MD-116A. All NEC Mercury-Wetted Switches are equipped with a high efficiency type "Switch Capsule," insuring super longevity and maximum reliability for high speed performance. A smaller size "Form C" type switch now being perfected will soon be placed on the market.



NEC DRY REED SWITCHES (RD-1, RD-3 and RD-5). The contact is carefully sealed in a glass tube, and can be adapted to various other types of reed relays when combined with an exciting coil. NEC Dry Reed Switches are widely used as proximity magnetic switches in conjunction with a permanent magnet. A smaller Dry Reed Switch now under development at NEC will soon be available.

NEC GAS LASER. The type GLG-103 shown here (1 mW minimum, with multimode) is a unique product of NEC technology. A companion model, the GLG-2004 (1 mW minimum), is a single mode laser slightly smaller in size, but has most of the sophisticated characteristics of the GLG-103.

NEC Gas Laser Generators are light weight, portable, with self-contained mirror (in the HE-NE type Gas Laser Tube), which is fixed inside the cylindrical case. The internal mirror gas laser, a major NEC achievement, is self-adjusting, shockproof and dustproof, and exceptionally stable—no customer alignment is necessary. NEC Gas Lasers operate on low anode voltage with small input line power.



NEC LD-915 DIGITAL INDICATOR TUBE is engineered for use in place of the usual read-out tube, for integrated circuit applications where lower voltage supply requirements are desirable. The LD-915 electron tube provides "Uni-Planar" display of numerical figures, mathematical symbols and characters. Uniquely efficient performance is due to composition based on green phosphor coated segments, charged with electrons imparted from a directly heated filament.

NEC LASER DETECTOR—TYPE LD-769. This static crossed-field photomultiplier detects low-level laser light, modulated by a signal frequency which switches from DC to microwave. In the static crossed electric and magnetic fields (produced by suitable arrangements of electrodes) the cycloidal electron motion has very small transit-time dispersion. Thus, the photomultiplier delivers flatter and wider frequency response (extending to the microwave region) than the conventional tube.

The LD-769 is packaged with a compact, completely shielded permanent magnet. A 50-ohm coaxial output terminal mates with connector type UG-21d/U.

NEC ESAKI DIODES are recommended for high-speed switching applications. Specifications available upon request.

NEC MICROWAVE TRANSISTORS—enthusiastically approved by leading telecommunications and electronic data processing engineers. In complex communications systems, NEC Microwave Transistors provide consistently excellent performance under the most difficult ambient environmental conditions. Our Type V417 Microwave Transistor, which operates with NF 9dB at 4 GH_z, is well known. In this same group we also recommend our types V327 and V415 Microwave Transistors.

Specification inquiries and consultations cordially invited, without obligation.

NEC manufactures high quality SCR, SR, TRIAC, DIAC, Unijunction, Voltage Reference Diodes ($V_Z 7^V$ — 1S550 through 1SS552), and HF Zener Diodes (RD7H, 8H and 10H). NEC Silicon Controlled Rectifiers and Silicon Rectifiers are recommended for high current, high voltage applications. NEC also produces SCR and SR, tailored for a vast range of current/voltage requirements.

NEC "ESVAC" (Epitaxial Silicon Capacitance Diode) includes three groups: 1S1617, 1S1618 and 1S1619. Our outstanding Capacitance Diodes utilize "Hyper-Abrupt Junction," (the rate of junction capacitance varying with applied voltage). Especially recommended for use in automatic gain control, automatic frequency control, frequency modulation, phase modulation and voltage tuning circuits, with high reliability and excellent temperature characteristics.

INTEGRATED CIRCUITS: Nippon Electric is Japan's foremost manufacturer of Integrated Circuits. Recognizing the vital role of miniaturization in the electronic industry, NEC has perfected mini-microscopic IC's to insure maximum economy, function and durability.

FOR DESK CALCULATORS: The NEC MOS Series (μPD 9-15), now available in production quantities, offers high reliability with very stable performance. NEC will soon begin production of LSI (Large Scale Integration) to meet the industry's growing needs.

FOR INDUSTRIAL USE: NEC's new family of TTL, designated the μPB200 Series, provides total compatibility with standard U.S.A. products. Our μPC51 is designed for use in Operational Amplifiers, and the μPC71 for Comparator applications.

FOR CONSUMER PRODUCTS: The μPC16 is a linear IC for IF amplification in television audio circuits. Performance is excellent in limiting characteristics, linearity of detector and temperature stability. Advanced design concepts make the μPC16 significantly superior to circuits employing the usual discrete components.

NEC'S EXTENSIVE RANGE OF CAPACITORS ARE GUARANTEED TO MEET YOUR MOST EXACTING SPECIFICATIONS:

"BL" CAPACITORS. Special "Boundary Layer" ceramic semiconductor capacitors developed by NEC are based on a new principle enabling optimized by-passing applications in H F. and High Speed Pulse circuits, with improved temperature and frequency characteristics.

TANTALUM "E" SERIES. Small, rectangular, solid tantalum capacitors, transfer molded with plastic material, supplied with uni-directional leads for use in printed circuits.

TANTALUM "H" SERIES. Hermetically sealed in a metal case, designed expressly for communications equipment, industrial control systems and electronic computers.

"MICROSOLID" TANTALUM. Smaller size is more suitable for use in high density electronic circuits.

"MYLEX" (MYLAR FILM). More compact and lighter in weight than the polyester type, "Mylex" capacitors provide highly efficient operation at very low voltages.

NEED CATHODES?
WANT ON-TIME DELIVERY?

It's a reasonable request. And Superior gives you tangible assurances. First, every cathode we make is for our customers—none for ourselves. Second, we have two large, modern plants, located about 600 miles apart, with identical facilities to protect you against delays. And you can choose from the widest variety of cathode types and materials in the field. So why do you suppose we are the world's leading independent cathode supplier? Send for our Catalog 52. Dept. 2500.

NOTES:

CONSTRUCTION
VB = Venetian Blind, BG = Box & Grid, LF = Linear Focussed, (C) = UV window (Corning 9741), (Q) = Spectrosil 1 and 2 inch tubes,—Quartz in larger sizes.

Secondary Emitting Surfaces: CsSb except for S-1, high temperature bialkali, and particle multipliers. Particle multipliers BeCuO, others AgMgO.

Tube Sockets: Tubes using B14B, B15B, B19A are supplied complete with Teflon socket, other types must be ordered separately.

Tube Shields (mu-metal): Available for all tubes—For 1" types PS8A; for 2" PS5A 4" long, PS5B 5.25" long; for 3" & 3½" PS7B; for 5" PS9B; for 12" SH-12.

MOUNTING
Any position. Material (any) in contact with the glass envelope must be at cathode potential or erratic operation/high dark current will result. Quartz or spectrosil tubes should not be clamped tightly as excess pressure will fracture the tube and void the warranty.

CALIBRATION
Each tube is individually calibrated, and the test ticket furnished with the tube specifies the cathode sensitivity in μA/L, the overall voltage for the specified overall sensitivity, and the dark current at that point. The gain at that voltage is determined by dividing the overall A/L by the cathode μA/L.

Tubes can be supplied with a monochromator spectral calibration on special order and carry the suffix M.

SUFFIX DESIGNATIONS
- B Standard tubes to published specifications, e.g., 6097B. Available on all types.
- A Tubes selected for one or more parameters, e.g., 9524A. The suffix gives no clue to the selection specification. Tubes may be selected for high photo-sensitivity, high gain, low dark current, resolution to Co^{60}; a group of tubes may be matched for gain.
- C A relaxed specification for tubes not meeting B specification. Subject to availability.
- K Overcapped (where normally supplied with glass base).
- M Supplied with spectral response curve on monochromator.
- N Supplied with vibration test certificate. Available on limited number of types.
- R Standard tubes to new high published specifications available on a limited number of types; including guaranteed resolution where applicable.
- S Tubes with SbCs cathodes processed for minimum thermionic emission. Subject to tritium counting test on tubes with 23 mm and 44 mm cathodes.

Information contained herein supersedes all prior published information. Manufacturer reserves the right to modify designs and specifications without prior notice.

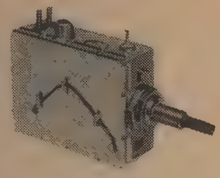
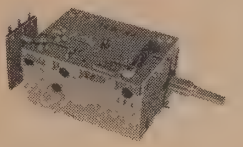
MITSUMI COMPONENTS



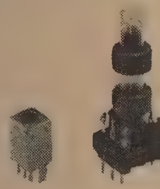
UHF TV TUNERS

Mitsumi UHF TV tuners are high in accuracy and excellent in durability because not only materials, configurations and platings but also soldering of their mechanical sections were well researched and developed. They are available at present in 3 models.



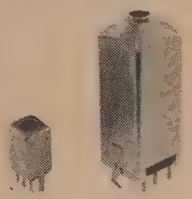
VHF TV TUNERS

Mitsumi VHF TV tuners are provided with a change-over switch to a UHF tuner, and have built-in IF amplifier and AGC(automatic gain control). They are perently avaialble in 3 models.



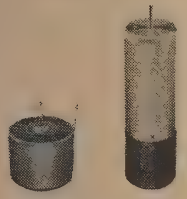
VARIOUS COILS

Mitsumi coils available at present are those for television receivers, heterodyne receivers, composite circuits(PACK) for IF detection, FM multiplex, FM tuners, etc.



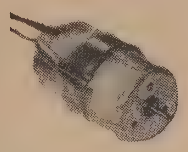
IF TRANSFORMER

There are many kinds of models for the use of television and radio receivers, various electronic equipments, etc. They are all specially quality-controlled so as to have stabilized mechanical characteristics and excellent electrical characteristics, and they are mass-produced by the full automatic coiling machines on the belt conveyor system.



MICRO MOTORS

At present, 11 models are available as those for small tape recorders, 8mm cinecameras, measuring instruments and so forth. They are excellent in starting movement, low in noise and long in life, resulting in the extremely stabilized revolutions. Super-flat type models are also available.

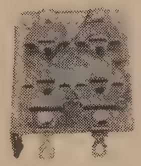


SYNCHRONOUS MOTORS

Mitsumi synchronous motors have the extremely high response and low revolving speed, resulting in less wear of bearings and moving parts, and higher durability.

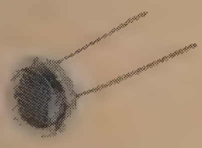
POLYVARICON (POLYETHYLENE VARIABLE CAPACITORS)

Polyvaricon is a miniature variable capacitor that was developed by our company. It has small size, light weight, strong resistivity for howling, excellent Q characteristics, high durabilities for use, temperature and humidity. Various models for AM and FM are available.



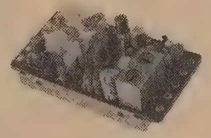
TRIMMER CAPACITORS

Mitsumi trimmer capacitors are superb in Q characteristics, and temperature and humidity characteristics. Various models for BC, SW and FM bands are available in 2 kinds of film trimmer capacitor and air trimmer capacitor.



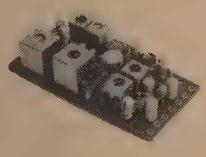
CdS PHOTO-CONDUCTIVE CELLS

Mitsumi photo-conductive cells having 8 patents, can obtain spectro-wavelength characteristics which match their purpose of use, due to the development of new sintered film. Presently available are 16 model including their applied products.



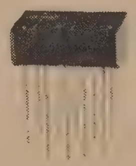
FM TUNERS

They are all transistorized, and the output IFT has 2 types, namely, single tuning type and double tuning type. The employed transistor is either silicon transistor or germanium transistor.



FM MULTIPLEX ADAPTER

It employs transistors, and has a built-in automatic stereo-monaural indicator. Separation is so good as more than 25dB at 300Hz ~ 4KHz. Distortion (content of higher harmonics) is negligible, and temperature characteristics are excellent.



HYBRID IC

There are 2 types of hybrid integrated circuits, namely, thin film type and thick film type. They are most suitable for such consumer electronic products as radio receivers, television receivers, stereo players, etc. Besides, variable-capacity diodes of MOS type were also developed.

Your Mitsumi Electric Co. is one of the largest electronic components munufacturers in Japan, and offers the worldwide electronic industries its highest quality products.

Mitsumi products are of high quality because they are produced by trained engineers, in the modern plant, and under the unique quality control technology.

Mitsumi products save your costs because they are produced under the superb mass production system, and designed by cost-conscious engineers to save your assembly costs.

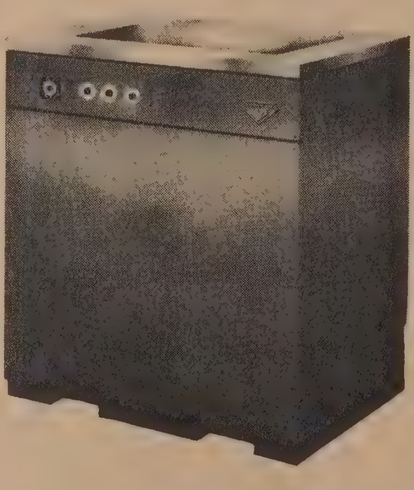
Looking for total flexibility in ultrasonics?

Look to Blackstone.

BPO/CT.5 Ultrasonic Kit

This new Blackstone Kit is the perfect laboratory combination of ultrasonic probe and cleaner with interchangeable single generator. Probe is ideally suited for cell disruption of small biological samples, dispersal of steroids, degassing and de-aeration of viscous fluids and acceleration of chemical reactions. It disrupts pills with a water-insoluble coating in one minute with 100% recovery for analysis. Probe can be carried from sample to sample for unsurpassed ease in reaching all areas of your work. Cleaning tank enables precision scrubbing of contaminated small parts and instruments. Solid state, 50 watt generator allows from 0 to 100% power control for selecting the most efficient power output.

New from Blackstone VE6.5-2



Critical cleaning problems disappear quickly and completely with Blackstone Ultrasonics' new VE units. Printed circuit boards, aircraft components, automotive bearings and carburetors, diesel parts, electric motors and many other applications.

Units feature both ultrasonic and vapor rinse, 300 series stainless steel tanks, 0 to 100% power control (optional), 5-micron filtering, solid-state, automatically tuned generators and up-front service for easy access to controls.

Let us solve your problem: Tell us what you have to process, or send us a sample. We'll tell you how to do it and lower your costs. Special ultrasonic processes and recommendations developed at no charge.

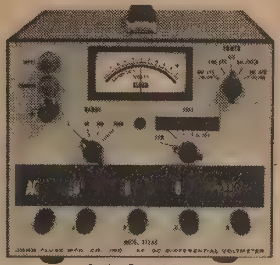
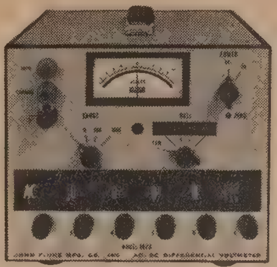
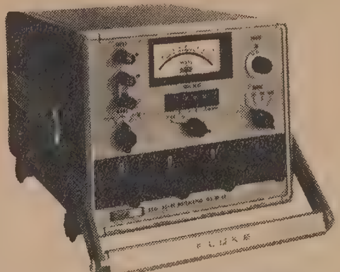
Fluke AC/DC Differential Voltmeters



Model 873



Model 887



Model 893

Fluke solid state AC/DC Differential Voltmeters offer the widest range of performance and accuracy in the market. Most units operate from either internal rechargeable batteries or 115/230 V, 50-440 Hz line power. Battery power is essential for measurement where maximum accuracy demands complete line isolation. Input ranges are 1, 10, 100 and 1000 volts, each with 10% overranging. Decimal point placement is automatic with range selection on all models.

Fluke voltmeters are electrically and mechanically designed to perform under the extremes of temperature, shock, vibration and humidity. Each zener diode reference is processed, computer matched and selected to establish excellent stability and temperature coefficient tracking. Fluke manufactures all of the precision wire wound resistors used. All solid state voltmeters are lightweight for portability and are provided with a tilt-back bail or functional detented handle for operator convenience. Recorder output is available on all Fluke differential voltmeters.

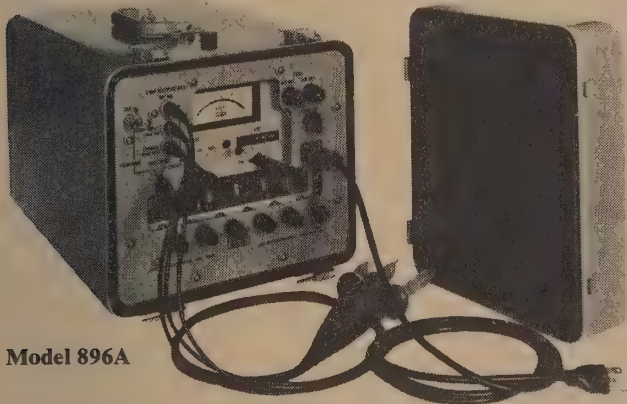
Fluke DC Differential Voltmeters

Fluke solid state DC Differential Voltmeters offer the widest range of performance and accuracy in the market. Most units operate from either internal rechargeable batteries or 115/230 V, 50-440 Hz line power. Battery power is essential for measurement where maximum accuracy demands complete line isolation. Input ranges are 1, 10, 100 and 1000 volts, each with 10% overranging.

Fluke voltmeters are electrically and mechanically designed to perform under the extremes of temperature, shock, vibration and humidity. Each zener diode reference is processed, computer matched and selected to establish excellent stability and temperature coefficient tracking. Fluke manufactures all of the precision wire wound resistors used. All solid state voltmeters are lightweight for portability and are provided with a tilt-back bail or functional detented handle for operator convenience. Recorder output is available on all Fluke differential voltmeters.



Model 896A

The new Fluke Model 896A represents an outstanding expansion of the capabilities and applications of the Model 895A DC Differential Voltmeter. Features of the new unit include the ability to measure ±15 Kv at multiplier input, measure ±1100 volts potentiometrically with up to ±5 Kv DC common-mode, mil-spec combination case and splashproof panel, and 100 μv full-scale sensitivity with 6 digit readout. The unit meets the MIL-E-16400 environmental spec.

a price tag of only $395!

With ±0.5% accuracy, 100μV resolution, absolutely clear 3½-digit readout, and simple, foolproof operation, the tough, compact little Digitest makes other low-cost DVM's look overpriced and under-engineered. We won't even mention a comparison with conventional meter-movement instruments.

Both models share the same specs, but Model 333 is completely portable thanks to built-in rechargeable ni-cad battery operation. It operates on AC as well. Both instruments give you 3½-digit readout, with Model 333R providing an overrange digit while Model 333 employs an overrange indicator.

Compare features, specs, and prices—you'll see that Digitest is your best DVM value. That $395 price, by the way, is complete. There are no shunts or plug-ins to buy, and even leads are furnished. The only option is a set of ni-cad batteries for the portable model at $33. Order yours today! Call Ron Craig (collect) at (303) 771-4717, or send your purchase order to Ron at Mail Station 222, Honeywell, Test Instruments Division, P.O. The HICKOK DMS 3200 Digital Measuring System is a precision electronic measuring device which displays readings in digital form instead of the relatively inaccurate and difficult-to-read moving-pointer meter display. A companion PR 4900 Digital Printer allows the displayed readings of the DMS 3200 System to be printed in permanent form for storage and future reference.

Because the DMS 3200 System consists of a main frame which will accept a number of "plug-in" units, it can be used to measure a variety of electrical parameters. The main frame provides display of the reading; the plug-in determines the application.

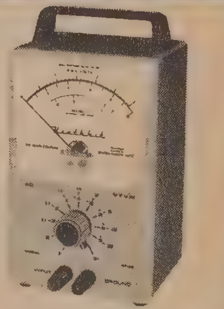
HEATHKIT® "Performance-Plus" Voltmeters

NEW Laboratory AC VTVM



The IM-38 is the essential instrument for virtually every kind of electronics work, and well suited too. Ten voltage ranges provide measurement capability from 10 millivolts to 300 volts — ideal for audio work; minimal circuit loading with the 10 megohm input. Extended frequency response of 10 Hz to 500 kHz ±1 dB and a calibrated dB scale for audio measurements too. The VU-type meter is ballistic damped for extra safety. The 2-stage amplifier provides 19 dB of negative feedback for high stability and linearity. Filament voltage is supplied from a transformer winding balanced to ground to keep AC noise to a minimum.

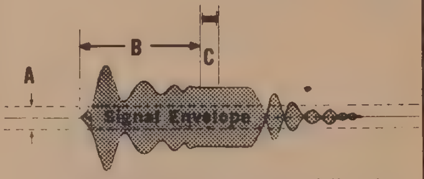
SAMPLING VOLTMETER

LETS YOU FORGET PEAK DETECTION AND STORAGE OSCILLOSCOPES!

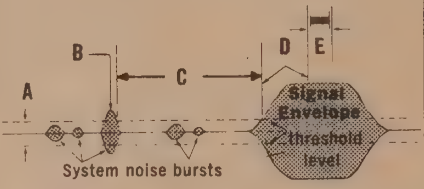
Model 215 Can measure the average value of an AC signal at a predetermined time with sampling periods as short as 100 microseconds.



A. Adjustable threshold 4 - 20% of full scale

B. Count cycles or provide a delayed trigger and sample after initial transient

C. Sampling periods of 0.1, 1.0 and 10 milliseconds depending upon signal frequency, 100 H to 1mHz

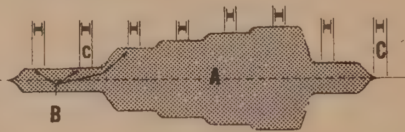


A. Adjustable threshold 4 - 20% of full scale

B. If this noise burst exceeds the threshold , provide a trigger any time in C

D. Sample 3 to 30 cycles after threshold

E. Sampling period



A. Signal envelope as the result of programmed voltage, current, frequency, etc.

B. Provide a delayed or coincident trigger for each programmed step or initiate the next step automatically after sampling

C. Sampling period

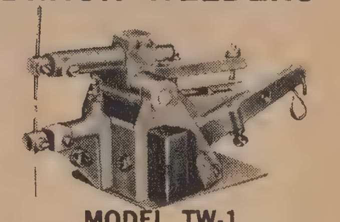
IDENTICAL WELDS

Through Constant Pressure with

TWEEZER-WELD BENCH WELDERS



MODEL TW-1

- Compact — only 5" x 4" x 12"
- Pressure — adjustable from 8 oz. up.

Constant, uniform, pressure and set-down . . . assured by the Tweezer-Weld patented cam-and-spring device . . . means identical welds, without cracking or granulation — a must in welding tiny electronic parts for micro-miniature modules. Each weld is exactly the same because the pressure is always the same. No matter how much or how little pressure the operator applies, the pressure at the weld remains constant. The result — perfect welds again, and again, and again, with Tweezer-Weld Bench Welders.

Illustrated 16-page brochure on request.
